Like Kentucky, Maryland now has a Gov. Brown who is a Democrat and a statesman.

James Cooper, the well-known circus man who owns the Poughkeepsie circus, died in Philadelphia, Pa., at the age of eleven days.

Gov. Montgomery C. Meigs, of the United States Engineer Corps, retired, died of a gripe in Washington Saturday, Aug. 76.

Barnes and Houston were both passed by in the Paducah postoffice matter and Capt. Ed. Farley secured the coveted plum. His appointment was made Saturday.

John Dietel, the champion fat man of the world, who weighed 767 pounds, succumbed to an attack of dropsy in Cincinnati on New Year's day. He was 25 years old.

Rev. Geo. O. Barnes, the evangelist, who has been living in Scotland for several years, is on his way to the United States and will again take up his residence at Stanford, Ky.

Gov. Humphrey, of Kansas, has appointed ex-Congressman Bishop W. Perkins United States Senator to succeed Senator Plimley. His appointment is for one year.

The cold wave in the Northwestern States was by far beyond anything experienced in this favored clime, where the extremes of heat and cold are never felt. The mercury in Minnesota and other states dropped to 22 degrees below zero.

The Supreme Court of the United States will decide the Boyd-Tyler gubernatorial contest from Nebraska this week, and it is believed Boyd will be declared eligible and restored to his office, from which he was ousted by the Republicans.

Lewis C. Laylin, a Sherman man, has been nominated for Speaker of the Ohio House by a vote of 38 to 34. Jas. F. McElroy, a McKinley man, claims that this means nothing and that Little Breckinridge will defeat Sherman in the Senatorial contest. All the indications point to a very close race.

Atlanta, in her desire to "turn over a new leaf" has concluded to grant only twenty-five liquor licenses instead of about 300 under which she has been operating during the past year. This means a fortune to those who secured the necessary permits in the trade in the liquor line in that city is reported as immense.

Treasurer Hale at the last moment reconsidered his determination to retire from office and withdrew his resignation. He took the call of office yesterday for the fourth year. This puts an end to the Governor's proposed promotion of Sam Norman and Ed Leigh, who will remain in their present places.

Archibald Forbes, the famous war correspondent, is always in readiness for marching orders. He has a lot of equipments for warm countries and another for cold countries, and he has himself provided with passports for every land to which there is any possibility that he may be ordered. He has a keen and well-trained intellect, and is master of every language. His endurance is great and his bravery remarkable.

M. Deschanel, deputy of the department of Europe-Latin, who has been commissioned by the French government to proceed to the United States with the view of investigating the social question and the position of women and their masters, will confer with Cardinal Gibbons, Henry George, and the leading men in all religious bodies and schools of thought in America.

About one hundred and fifty Tennessee convicts have been returned to the mines at coal Creek. They were chained together in squads of five a special guard put in charge of the group. There are no murderers nor rapists among the number sent, the law specially providing that those who are prisoners be kept in a separate main prison. No further trouble is anticipated. Twenty thousand men are held in readiness in case of an emergency.

Last Friday the day fixed upon for the substitution of the weighing for the gauging system in the internal revenue department, and as soon as practicable all whisky will be weighed, on scales for that purpose set up by Commissioner Mason. For this change a Louisville firm of dealers is principally responsible. This firm wrote the Commissioner a letter and out complaining of the expensive proofing, the size of the barrels, and the classification of the barrels, and if the new system be adopted, full credit for getting it belongs very much to them.

War on the Texas Border.

It is not generally known that part of the United States army is now engaged in an effort to repel a foreign invader and that several skirmishes have occurred. It is difficult to get the news, as the same of the trouble is remote from a telegraph station, and still harder to get the straight of the affair from the imperfect reports received. A revolutionist named Garza, with 100 followers, is engaged in an insurrection against the Mexican government. Pressed by the soldiers of President Diaz, Garza crossed over the Rio Grande and established a recruiting station in Texas. He has been operating chiefly in Starr and Duval counties. Learning that an armed troop had invaded Texas, Capt. J. G. Bourke with 100 soldiers set out to find Garza and drive him out. He met in between Mexican regulars and United States soldiers, Garza has been fighting desperately and Capt. Bourke has found it necessary to call for reinforcements to protect Ft. Ringgold. Troops to the number of 1000 are now hurrying to the scene and Texas Rangers have also been called for by Gov. Hogg. In the meanwhile Garza has met and defied the limited number of United States troops in the field and shows no signs of retreating. He is collecting more men and a conflict is liable to occur with as many as 1000 men on each side.

Twice during the last twenty years, the office of Governor of Kentucky has been filled by a statesman not only able but broad-minded and possessing an intelligent conception of public affairs. The names of Gov. Knott were models as State papers, but the first message of Gov. Brown, while characterized by the same high order of ability, pitches into existing evils with a directness that shows that Kentucky has had no executive with the courage of his convictions to so marked a degree as the present Governor. Gov. Brown's administration promises to be one of which not only the Pennycuyl country but the whole State will be proud.

To Our "Charter Members."

There are upon our subscription books a number of subscribers who have taken the KENTUCKIAN continuously since its first issue Jan. 1, 1879. They are "charter members" and have stuck to us through thick and thin, year in and year out for thirteen years. They have followed their paper through all its changing fortunes and stood by it with a loyalty that has never wavered. Now that the KENTUCKIAN is firmly established as a permanent and most prosperous journal in Western Kentucky, we have this proposition to make to our old "Stand-bys." Every subscriber who has taken the KENTUCKIAN since its first issue will receive 1892, if he desires it, an extra copy of the paper free, to be sent to any address desired. This does not contemplate the usual of your own subscription without pay, but the proposition is to give you two papers when you pay for 1892. The only condition required is that the extra paper be sent to a name not now on our list. All these subscriptions will expire with the year 1892, whether put on Jan. 1 or July 1. This offer is made for three reasons: The first shows our appreciation of past favors; the second to introduce the KENTUCKIAN into families where it does not now go; and the third is to prove that "18" after all is not as unkind a number as has been represented.

He was a passenger on the accommodation and when the train was starting the city and the station had been called Mr. Hadley arose from his seat and passing out upon the platform proceeded to step off while the train was in motion. He fell upon the ground and received several cuts and bruises. Passengers are warned by the Company not to leave their seats until the train is at standstill, and the wonder is that there are not more accidents of the similar character to chronicle where so little attention is paid to this order.

Flames in Nashville.

A destructive and fatal fire visited the business portion of Nashville on Friday last. The fire started at about 10 o'clock and spread rapidly. The buildings destroyed were the No. 10 building, the Rhodes, Warren and Webb, Stevenson & Co. building and others in the same vicinity. The flames originated mysteriously on the fourth floor of the Webb, Stevenson & Co. building. Three colored firemen were killed by a falling wall, while throwing water from the roof of a lower building. They were Charles Gowdy, Harry Ewing and Stokely Allen of the No. 10. This is the greatest fire Nashville has had since 1861.

The fire which occurred in Clarksville early Saturday morning was not disastrous as was at first reported. The three-story brick of R. E. Meyer and the old Planters Hotel, occupied by several colored families, were burned out, and McKnight Bros. were damaged to the extent of three-fourths of their inventory. Mayers loss is $3,500 on stock; insurance $3,000. The store house belonged to E. Glick, who insured for $6,000. McKnight Bros. store was damaged to the extent of about $8,000; fully insured. The store house occupied by McKnight Bros. owned by Mrs. S. A. Bowling of this city, was damaged about $3,000; insured. McKnight Bros. building and stock was damaged to the extent of $800. Norman M. Smith, two tenement houses, $2,000, insured. It seems that McKnight Bros. have been sailing on a rough sea for several years as they were just recovering from a recent loss by fire which came near ruining them. They also sustained a $12,000 loss by the terrible cyclone which passed over this section about a year and a half ago. They are operating three branch stores in this State and have already commenced an inventory to a preparatory adjustment of their last losses.

City Court Affairs.

Judge M. D. Brown, of the City Court, when approached by a Kentucky representative regarding his report of business for the past year, said: "I have little to say in regard to the business of my office as I have been giving my undivided attention to some without any effort at show, or one to praise. I have lost but one day from my office and have never failed to be at my post at 8 o'clock a. m." The Judge then gave the following summary of business:

"Have on dock 1074 appearances

"Have paid into the City Treasury $1500."

"Fines assessed and worked out in the work house $3000."

"Number of prisoners sent to work house 176."

"Fees due me on same $625."

"Amount out standing $1100."

"Cost on same due $600."

The Judge further states that he intends to rigidly enforce the ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in the city on Sunday, and also the law regarding indecency, and asks the aid of the law abiding element in the city. One hundred capias have just been issued and will be served on all parties who have failed to satisfy the various fines, and will do so who under this head will fare badly if they do not promptly extricate themselves, as the Judge intends to fill the work house if the unpaid fines are not forthcoming. Under Judge Brown's administration during the year just past there has been more business transacted in the City Court than for many years, and the docket is well up to date.

He is prompt, ever at his post at 8 o'clock a. m., to 5 o'clock p. m., and can always be found at his home on North Main at night, if needed.

Appeals to Your Intelligence.

When all is said there is certainly a wonderful satisfaction when leaving a theatre to feel that you have seen something you can recall with delight; to have seen a story developed that has excited your interest; you have happened upon a play which was happy and which was not dragged in, in such a senseless fashion as to be a insult to your intelligence. Such a play is "She Couldn't Marry Three" The plot is to welcome the new season, the songs new and catchy; the scenery superb; the climax thrilling, and the company is headed by that piquant little actress, Miss Lillian Kennedy, one of the best on the road.

Now James A. McKearse will be in Kentucky in a few days to attend the marriage of his daughter. It may, or at least it should be his place to speak so emphatically while here, as to his proposed candidacy for Congress. There is no use in daily saying, and Mr. McKearse is a man of too much brain to be caught in that class. The people want to know, and many of his warm friends are anxious to know his mind on this question. Unquestionably he is looking every day by keeping him. He owes it to others who may have an eye on the race, provided he is not in it, to clear.
